Iran-Iraq hold first peace talks

GENEVA (AP)—Iran and Iraq on Thursday opened the first face-to-face negotiations on ending their 8-year-old war, and the mediator U.N. Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar, voiced hope they would embark on a "path of peace."

Perez de Cuellar welcomed the delegations headed by Iranian Foreign Minister Ali Akbar Velayati and his Iraqi counterpart, Tariq Aziz, and they sat at long, rectangular tables positioned left and right of the U.N. team in a triangular fashion.

"Your presence clearly indicates your governments are quite prepared to pursue the path of peace," he said, adding that he hoped the talks would be "businesslike, constructive and, indeed, productive."

The atmosphere in the ornate U.N. hall was sober. Aziz smiled and nodded at the Iranians when the two delegations entered the chamber, but there was no reaction.

The delegates numbered 13 on the Iranian side and 15 on the Iraqi side. Perez de Cuellar was flanked by five aides.

The meeting began about 20 minutes late. As journalists were told to leave the chamber so that the private talks could start, Aziz lit a cigar and began puffing on it.

U.N. spokesman Francois Giuliani said the meeting was conducted in English, Arabic and Farsi.

After about 2 1/2 hours, the delegations moved into different rooms, where U.N. representatives consulted with them separately. Giuliani said he could not provide further details and added: "It is not a bad sign, nor a good sign. It's a normal process of consultation."

Senate petitions due in three weeks

By CATHY PODWOJSKI
Staff writer

Student Senate is trying to fill three vacant seats in the next few weeks.

Jane Clark vacated a seat in the residence hall district when she became the Senate Speaker. John Stuckemeyer, also of the residence hall district, resigned to take a seat on the supreme court. The third seat emptied when Patty Kennedy of the at-large district became the Board of Governors representative.

Senate, which normally fills 30 seats, will officially count members at the Aug. 31 meeting to determine the number of empty seats.

Students appointed to fill the positions will serve as senate members until the fall elections when they can run for a full term.

Students interested in filling the positions can pick up a petition from the Student Government office. The petition must be signed by 50 residents of the district for which the student is running.

The senate will then conduct a series of interviews with the students to appoint three to the positions open.

All full-time students with a grade point average of 2.0 are qualified to fill the seats.

Clark added, "You have to be willing to work hard and have an interest in senate" to be chosen for the seat.

Former U.S. sergeant arrested on charges of espionage

FRANKFURT, West Germany (AP)—A former U.S. sergeant arrested in West Germany headed an international spy ring that sold NATO defense secrets to the Soviets at high prices for a decade, officials said Thursday.

"We can't exclude the possibility that millions of dollars are involved," said Alexander Prechtel, spokesman for the chief federal prosecutor's office.

A second American soldier who was not identified received a "five-figure sum" of money for supplying the ring with military secrets, said Chief Federal Prosecutor Kurt Rebmann, and Prechtel said two Hungarian-born brothers arrested Tuesday in Sweden with cipher keys, coded messages and radios were a part of the ring.

It was too early to know how much damage was caused to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, Prechtel said in an interview, but the ring is believed to have stolen documents concerning NATO defense plans for Europe and U.S. Army contingency plans for a ground war with the Soviet Union in Europe.

Clyde Lee Conrad, the former sergeant, was arrested Tuesday, and a statement from the prosecutor's office said he was charged with "compelling suspicion of espionage activities in an especially grave case."

Conrad was born in 1947 in Ohio and worked for the U.S. military for 20 years, Prechtel said. Army records list his hometown as Sebring, Ohio.

He worked as an infantryman and then as an "administration specialist" during his active duty, according to his service records released in Washington. Conrad received the National Defense Service Medal, the Vietnam Service Medal, five Army Commendation medals, the Army Achievement Medal, three Meritorious Service medals and seven Good Conduct medals.

Prechtel said Conrad worked with classified military defense plans for seven years at a U.S. Army base in Bad Kreuznach, in central West Germany, and had access to a wide array of secret documents. Conrad allegedly continued espionage work after he left the service in 1985, Prechtel said.

Rebmann said Conrad turned over the most recent batch of information to his Soviet bloc contact in Vienna just last month.

Cable News Network on Thursday quoted unidentified West German sources as saying Conrad systematically photographed files between 1980 and 1985. The CNN report said investigators believe he may have transferred material onto a personal computer, which was seized at his home.

Drought stricken farmers cut Idaho hay

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — A group of 65 Iowa farmers prepared Wednesday to cut free hay for their drought-starved livestock, while offers of food, lodging, money and equipment continued to pour in.

Meanwhile, organizers of the hay harvest said they've received calls from dozens of farmers in North Dakota and other drought-stricken states asking whether any more hay could be cut.

"When we put out the notice, we didn't realize we were going to get such a tremendous response," said Mike Trautman, director of information for the Idaho Farm Bureau. "It's turned into a monumental task."

People reject president's proposal

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Authorities on Thursday released Burma's top dissident and nearly 1,700 anti-government protesters, and hundreds of thousands more rallied to demand immediate democracy, rejecting the president's proposal to consider multiparty rule.

Dissident Aung Gyi left Insein Jail, quickly organized a rally of about 200,000 people, and demanded an interim government be formed to lead the nation to democracy.

On Wednesday, President Maung Maung bowed to three days of mass protests against one-party rule and called for a referendum on multiparty democracy. The leader of the nation's third in five weeks ended martial law imposed Aug. 1 in Rangoon, withdrew troops from the city center and lifted curfews throughout the country.

Thompson signs auto law

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. James R. Thompson on Thursday signed into law legislation requiring owners of all 7 million Illinois cars, small trucks and motorcycles to carry auto liability insurance or face penalties.

The days of uninsured drivers "ducking responsibility" are over, said Secretary of State Jim Edgar.

But insurance company executives raised the possibility that rates could rise for insured drivers as a result of the new law.

EISCCAP popularity growing on campus

By CATHY BEHRENDT
Staff writer

EISCCAP? Isn't that the top of an iceberg or something like that? Maybe in Alaska, but not at Eastern.

Eastern Illinois Students and Community Concerned About Peace is a peace organization affiliated with the national chapter Sane-Freeze.

EISCCAP consists of 30 to 40 active members ranging from freshmen to seniors to community members.

At its regular meeting Wednesday, the group prepared for the upcoming year. Several projects were discussed, including the Walk for Hunger in St. Louis; the passing of a referendum to stop nuclear wastes from being transported through Charleston; voter registration; voter information; and the big project of the year—Peacefest.

Members reviewed their past accomplishments and planned for future events.

Last year's Peacefest, held during late spring in the South Quad, was a success despite sound system foul-ups said members. Peacefest was a free concert which involved local bands and several speakers, one of which was Sane-Freeze representative Deborah Langerman.

In fact, the fest was such a success that many of those in attendance were unable to purchase Peacefest t-shirts, members said. Anyone interested in obtaining a Peacefest '88 t-shirt should contact the group adviser, Craig Eckert. T-shirt prices weren't determined, but money would be donated Sane-Freeze.

The group has accomplished much in the four short years of its existence. EISCCAP has converted Eastern into a Nuclear Free Zone, not allowing warheads or nuclear wastes on campus, which is more symbolic than practical, but shows that Eastern's students are concerned about the issue. Students approved the issue by a margin of 1,000 during student elections.

EISCCAP also sponsors various speakers and films throughout the year.

The members of EISCCAP are what makes it so dynamic. Lisa Pomazal, an elementary education major, belongs to both EISCCAP and another peace group on campus called Pax-Christi. Pomazal said, "I think that a life of peace and non-violence is the most important thing in the world -- and that's why I'm willing to give my efforts to those two groups."

EISCCAP has grown by word of mouth, as that is how freshman Sarah Beckley got involved with the group. "I joined because some of my friends were involved and I felt it was a good way to find out what I could do personally."

Politics are a big concern of both the members of EISCCAP and its adviser. Eckert wants to inform the general Eastern populace of the merits of the two front-runners in the upcoming presidential election. "If nothing else," he joked, "they can vote for the lesser of two evils!"

Senior James Conley, a political science major, joined the group for political reasons. Conley said that he "originally joined freshman year because I was concerned about the investments EIU had in South Africa. I continued because I was concerned about the destructive military policies of the Reagan administration and I sought to bring my knowledge to the group."

EISCCAP may not be the actual tip of an iceberg, but it is the tip of a growing part of Eastern's campus. If interested in becoming a member, contact Eckert in the Sociology Department, or look for meeting announcements in the Campus Clips in The Daily Eastern News.

Dan Duhamell, junior math major, studies on the south quad.

Foundation to meet Sunday

By CRAIG EDWARDS
Administration editor

Approximately 100 members are expected to attend the annual meeting of the Eastern Illinois University Foundation Sunday in the Union Grand Ballroom.

The foundation was established in 1953 to serve as a depository for private money given to the university for scholarships and special projects. Since then, the foundation has established a portfolio of investments. Foundation President David Musgrave said

Thursday the foundation will accept nominations and appoint new members at Sunday's meeting.

"There are 100 members on the foundation who serve five-year terms," he said.

In addition to electing new members, the foundation will hear reports from Eastern President Stan Rives, Daniel Thornburgh, director of university relations and Foundation Treasurer Cecil Sedwell.

Musgrave also said that Rives' wife, Sandy, will make a video presentation on last year's Women's Expo activities and preview the activities planned for this year.

Sunday's meeting will be the last for Musgrave as president of the foundation. He is president of the First National Bank in Robinson.

Musgrave has also served as vice president for the foundation and belongs to the Panther Club and Eastern's Business Advisory Council.

Eastern students no longer face long waits in line

By CATHERINE VELASCO
Campus editor

Textbook, add/drops and parking sticker lines are dwindling.

University Police plan to stop selling parking stickers by Friday morning said Sgt. John Hensley of the University Police.

Presently, 1,875 tickets have been sold and Hensley plans to cut off the selling at the 1,900 mark.

University Police will patrol parking lots to determine what spaces are being used to their full capacity and if they can sell more tickets in the next few weeks, Hensley said.

However, other lines on campus still exist.

Students are waiting in lines outside the textbook rental library to get their books for the new year.

"The lines are pretty good, but pretty packed. We are putting through 50 students in seven minutes," said Mary Hays, a receptionist at the textbook rental library.

During the last four days, the lines have been packed, which is unusual compared to past years, Hays said. In past years students waited to get their books later on in the week, she said.

The textbook rental lines may be packed, but Mike Taylor, director of registration said the add/drop lines were empty Thursday afternoon.

Students can avoid long lines by dropping a class in the drop box in front of the Grand Ballroom between 8 and 10:30 a.m. to avoid lines. Drops will be processed to be available for afternoon add/drops, he said.

Unlucky furniture store burns for third time

By JEFF MADSEN
City editor

For the third time since Wilmer's Furniture burned to the ground May 20, fire officials responded to another "spark-up" at the structure Wednesday.

Dan Ensign, Chief of the Lincoln Fire Protection District Charleston station, said workers hired to dismantle the building, West Route 16, set a pile of debris on fire. A strong wind spread the fire to neighboring property.

"It was my understanding the debris was to be put in dumpsters and hauled off," Ensign said. "But when we got there, they had apparently set piles of debris on fire instead of hauling them off."

In two previous "spark-ups," Ensign said sparks from the workers torches were using ignited and set other debris afire.

Fire fighters used about 300,000 gallons of water on the May 20 fire, which did an estimated $2 million damage.

Ensign said the cause of the fire was carelessness. "Some workers were burning some boxes in the back, and like yesterday, it was really windy and the fire spread very quickly."

City council tax decision too hasty

The Charleston City Council has once again acted in haste—this time passing a 19 percent tax hike before collecting complete information on the situation.

The measure, passed by a 3 to 1 vote at Tuesday's council meeting, was taken to offset state mandated pension increases and workman's compensation, which will require an extra $225,000.

The city expects to raise $258,000 with the 19 percent levy.

Raising taxes is a necessary evil city officials sometimes have to choose in order to raise extra funding or offset a red budget. Sometimes it is unavoidable.

In this case, however, city officials acted in haste, before reviewing the 1988-89 property tax assessments.

The Charleston City Council, Mayor Murray Choate included, has admitted that the assessments may be higher than the city has estimated, which could decrease the level needed in the tax increase.

The council has made excuses for the negligent act by saying they were forced to skip taking the assessments because there wasn't time to do so before the tax levy figures have to be filed in the county assessor's office by Sept. 6.

Instead of showing justification, however, all the excuse shows is poor planning.

City officials should have known the tax levy figures had to be in the county assessor's office by Sept. 6 and planned to get started on property assessments, or at least weighing a variety of options, earlier.

By waiting until it was too late the commissioners have not only backed themselves into a corner, but city residents as well.

While a tax increase may have indeed been unavoidable in this instance, perhaps it would not have been necessary to implement as much of an increase as 19 percent.

Only time and the property assessments will tell.

In the meantime, the council's hasty decision may have just cost residents more than their share.

Future looks 'spooky' for Eastern

Walk through any grocery store line these days and you're likely to see at least one national tabloid promoting this year's predictions for those celebrities we all love to hate.

Of course all of the psychics making predictions have world-renound credentials, so, of course, their predictions are unquestionably accurate.

I mean who am I to question the fact that Heavyweight Champion Mike Tyson's wife Robin Givens will take up female wrestling within the next year and gain fame as the World Wrestling Federation's female champion, only to give it all up to become Tyson's manager.

OK, I guess you can see why no one in their right mind could ever doubt the legitimacy of these predictions, which is all the more reason why I am a little leary of giving my own predictions for the year.

My only real claim is my prediction that Vicki Buchanan from One Life to Live would find her way back to Buchanan City in the year 1888 just in time to stop Clint from marrying Miss Ginny Fletcher. OK, so it wasn't that great of a prediction, see what you think of these:

— Eastern President Stan Rives will resign to co-star

opposite Pee Wee Herman in the upcoming "Underwater Pee Wee: Pee Wee goes to Sea World."

— Eastern's Student Senate will again pass influential legislation in the hopes someone will listen. Some of the bills will include: A resolution supporting a $4 million rec center to be funded solely through student fees within the next two years, but will not be constructed for another 10 years; a bill stating that the Student Senate is strongly against a $300 mid-year tuition increase. Board of Governors Representative Patty Kennedy presents the bill to the BOG along with a convincing plea why students cannot possibly continue picking up the pieces for the state of Illinois mess-ups. Board members give a "sincere" nod of approval and then quickly pass a tuition increase. The senate will also succeed in getting a new clock in union to match the one currently across from Sugar Shack. The new clock will go in the Student Senate office, for the benefit of ALL students.

— Despite greek opposition, Greek Court construction is completed. But, only two days and 45 minutes after hundreds of non-greek freshman move into buildings, the ghost of Pemberton Hall shows up playing all kinds of practical jokes. Seeing that the greek only wants some company and has reformed his habit of killing innocent young girls, the residents elect him hall president. The new hall takes first place for homecoming float which will be the first in Eastern history to ACTUALLY float.

Well, that ought to wrap it up for now. They may be a little rough, but my meeting with Nancy Reagan and her star-gazing friends next week may produce some fascinating new predictions.

Amy Carr is news editor for The Daily Eastern News.

Dukakis criticizes rival

By the Associated Press

Democrat Michael Dukakis said Thursday that cocaine imports have tripled in seven years and charges the Reagan administration with permitting a "drug cancer" to take root. George Bush said he represents "proven tested leadership" and likened his presidential rival to Jimmy Carter.

Dukakis and Bush sparred long distance as their vice presidential running mates encountered turbulence on their own campaign rounds.

Democrat Lloyd Bentsen was booed repeatedly when he praised Dukakis before the Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting in Chicago. "the simple truth is, Gov. Dukakis is a veteran, a patriot and an advocate of American strength and steadiness," the Texas senator said.

Republican vice presidential candidate Dan Quayle was greeted in Columbia, Mo., by competing groups of supporters and demonstrators and a few signs that read, "War Wimp" and "Quayle's a Chicken." That was a reference to the furor over his National Guard service at the height of the Vietnam War.

The Indiana senator told reporters the public was "getting a little sick" of the controversy, and at a meeting later with farmers, he added, "I won't take any questions" about the subject.

Quayle said he was qualified to assume the presidency "if that situation arises."

Probe nets arrests in drug case

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Police and FBI agents arrested 25 people Thursday after a year-long probe of central Illinois cocaine-trafficking operations that allegedly sold as much as $400,000 in drugs each week.

U.S. Attorney J. William Roberts said 16 people were arrested on federal charges. The suspects were indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury in Springfield. All but one of the suspects were from Knox or Tazewell counties.

Some people charged in the federal indictments were still at large, said Roberts, who declined to identify them or say how many there were.

An additional 10 people were indicted on state drug charges in Knox County, officials said. Of those, nine were arrested Thursday and one was being sought.

More than 75 FBI agents and police were involved in the arrests, capping a year-long investigation dubbed "Operation Iron Eagle" that involved 14 law-enforced agencies.

"The persons arrested today are members of organizations which are distributing up to multi-kilogram quantities of cocaine on a weekly basis," Roberts said.

"This translates to street value sales of approximately $200,000 to $400,000 per week depending on substance purity."

The investigation is continuing, said Roberts, who estimated that at least two dozen additional people would be indicted.

Watercolor exhibit on display at Tarbler Arts

The Tarble Arts Center is currently displaying "100 Watercolors-China."

The exhibit was done by Dr. Walter Sorge, a professor in the Art Department at Eastern.

Tarble Arts Center director Michael Watts said the paintings were made during Sorge's year-long sabbatical in the People's Republic of China, Hong Kong and Taiwan.

Watts said the first four months were spent in Taiwan, a month in Hong Kong and the remaining five months in Mainland China.

He also said although Sorge lived in Taipei and Shanghai, he traveled extensively, painting and presenting workshops. The work documents the sights and people that Sorge encountered.

The paintings will be on exhibit at the Tarble Arts Center through Sept. 18, with a reception for Sorge Aug. 28 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Memorial established to raise funds Cancer victim's family and friends donate monies

By JEFF MADSEN

City editor

Family and friends of an Eastern employee who died of cancer earlier this year have established a memorial to raise funds for the Sarah Bush Lincoln Regional Cancer Center.

The memorial, in the name of Pamela Sue Hill, who was an advisor in the Lumpkin College of Business, is part of the regional cancer center's Tree of Life Campaign.

Teachers and school officials in the Charleston Unit One School District made the first donation to the Hill memorial Wednesday. Hill's husband, Dr. William E. Hill, is the superintendent of the school district.

Hill was a volunteer for the American Cancer Society for 12 years and coordinated Reach to Recovery, a program for women who have had mastectomies.

"This memorial is a way for friends, colleagues and relatives to help Pamela Sue continue to fight against cancer," said Leon Cunningham, the Sarah Bush Lincoln Foundation director.

"A great majority of the donations we're receiving are memorial gifts. It's an excellent way the life of the one who passed away go on to help others."

Cunningham said 50 percent of the $13,605 that has been donated to the cancer center came from memorials. Construction for the center is expected to exceed $1 million.

"We've got this $13,000 this week (from the Tree of Life Campaign)," Cunningham said.

The Tree of Life will recruit donors to the Foundation's campaign and will be erected in the lobby of the center.

Alumni booters out for revenge after last year's 14 to 0 drubbing

ALLAGATTOLLA
The Panther soccer team will participate in the Annual Miklovic Alumni game at Lakeside Field at 2 p.m. Last year was a terrible game," said Panther soccer coach Cizo Mosnia. "There just weren't enough bodies." Last year, only 11 Panther alumni participated. This year 20 alumni have committed Mosnia expects commitments to be even more. The Panthers have defeated the alumni 13 of the 14 years that the game has been played. "It's going to be a different story. It's not going to be 14-0," said Panther fullback Greg Muhr. "They have a real good chance to win."

Mosnia was playing for the alumni in 1979 when they prevailed 1-0 in their sole victory over the Panthers. Mosnia expects just as competitive a game Sunday and admitted that he takes the game seriously. "This game is preparation for the season," said Mosnia. "We will not do anything different in this game than in any other game." Muhr looks forward to playing against some of his former teammates. "The way I approach it is that I know those guys and its a friendly game," said Muhr. "It's nice to have a game like this once in a season to kind of take the pressure off." Among the alumni expected to play are goaltender Mark Simpson (class of '87), who was the Chicago Sting's first draft choice, but who will perform for the San Diego Sockers this season because the Sting folded. Former St. Louis Steamer full-back Albert Adade (class of '85), goaltender John Baretti (class of '78), who has performed for many professional teams, midfielder Rick Lansing (class of '86), full-back John Glendinning (class of '87), whose brother is a freshman on the current Panther squad, will join forward Renny Garshelia (class of '68), the oldest alumnus performing, fullback George Gorleku (class of '79), an All-American and forward Owen Hylton (class of '80). Mosnia said that the game is played for the alumni. "We bring in the alumni to make them feel as part of the program," said Mosnia. "I think that they are."

O'Brien work behind

By MIKE FITZGERALD
Sports editor

The completion of work on the O'Brien Stadium press box and entertainment area will be cutting it close to Eastern's home football opener on Sept. 10 against Austin Peay.

"I would say it will be done about 32 seconds before kickoff," joked Athletic Director R.C. Johnson.

The project, originally slated for completion in July, was held up by a number of factors.

"We didn't get started when we wanted to," said Johnson. "We wanted to get the state track meets out of the way, and we weren't really sure about the Cardinals."

Johnson said some steel needed for the expansion of the press box/entertainment area did not get to the site on time.

He praised Bruce Michaels, the construction crew chief, and his workers for the job they have done in getting the project going.

When it is completed, the media area will be doubled as well as the entertainment area.

"We'll be able to put both radio stations inside. The coaches will be inside and we will have room to entertain the visiting president and we will have space for basketball recruiting," Johnson said.

The immediate beneficial effect is the expanded space which will help with the recruitment of student athletes."

In the long run, Johnson thinks the renovation will increase contributions to the university because it brings the stadium facilities up to the Division I level.

The project was originally scheduled to cost $90,000, the money coming from pledges and donations. Johnson still thinks the cost will be in the $90,000 range despite the delays.

First home game to honor Hall inductees

By MIKE FITZGERALD
Sports editor

The Eastern Illinois Hall of Fame will induct seven members in a ceremony to be held at the Panther's first home football game on Sept. 10 against Austin Peay.

Winston Brown, Rod Butler, Lee Roy LaRose, Bill McCabe, John McDevitt, B.J. Smith and Joe Ward will join 53 previous athletes, coaches and friends who have been inducted.

The seven were selected by the EIU Letterman's Club committee.

"The committee has again recognized outstanding individuals who have either contributed to Panther athletic success on the playing field or behind the scenes," said Athletic Director R.C. Johnson in a press release.

Brown, a 1957 graduate, has been a teacher and coach for 26 years at Edwardsville High School. He was an outstanding track performer for the Panthers from 1954-57 finishing fifth in the NAIA national meet in both the 100 and 200 meter dashes in 1956.

Butler graduated in 1964 after lettering nine times in football, basketball and track. He was a four year starter in football, and is currently head football coach at Peoria Richwoods High School.

LaRose graduated in 1949 after earning nine letters in track, football and baseball. He was an all-conference lineman on both offense and defense, averaged over .300 as a catcher and once held Eastern and conference records in the shotput.

McDevitt, a 1953 graduate, lettered in baseball for four years and played several years in the Pittsburgh Pirates minor league system.

McCabe, who retired from Eastern's faculty in 1987 after a 25 year career as a teacher, coach and administrator, compiled a 201-133 record as baseball coach from 1963-74. In 1977, he was chosen to the Association of College Baseball Coaches Hall of Fame.

Smith, who graduated in 1959, was a NAIA Third Team Basketball All-American in 1959. He still holds records for most points in a game with 56, highest season scoring average at 22.4 and most field goals in a game with 25.

Ward, a 1941 graduate, lettered all four years in football and track. He taught in public high schools for 35 years and was recently inducted into the

Lady Panthers host invite Saturday

PHIL CHAPARRO
Staff Writer

The Lady Panther cross country team unofficially opens their 1988 campaign at 10:45 a.m. Saturday, as they host Purdue in the Early Runner Invitational at the Lantz Course.

The event's purpose is to give both teams an early indication of their strengths and weaknesses and no team scores will be kept.

This will give Eastern an extra week to prepare for its season opener Sept. 3 at Southern Illinois University.

"This is just a practice meet," Coach John Craft said. "We got in school on last Wednesday, and we have to see what condition we are in. This will give us a good idea about where we stand, and how much we will have to train."

The Lady Panthers will be led by sophomore Laurie Mizener. Mizener is coming off an outstanding freshman season, which leaves Craft optimistic about her chances in the Gateway Conference.

"She has given me every indication that she can finish in the top three or four spots," Craft said of Mizener.

Eastern will go into the season without the services of freshman Stefanie Stump.

Stump, an 1988 graduate of Peoria's Bergan High School, suffered a knee injury in a weekend car accident.

"Stefanie Stump was in a car accident last Friday," Craft said. "She is in rehabilitation right now, and will figure big in our plans this season."

Spikers to host match

By BILL LOOBY
Staff writer

Matching the success of last year's squad will be a difficult task.

Volleyball coach Betty Ralston will see how the 1988 varsity Lady Panthers match up against competition Saturday in a five-game scrimmage match at noon in McAfee Gymnasium.

The College of St. Francis of Joliet will match up against the Lady Panthers in the pre-match.

The spikers return five weeks from the record setting squad. The team finished with a 25-8 record (5-4 in Gateway Conference action) and set records with a .758 winning percentage and four tournament championships.

Ralston said the team will be without the services of senior outside hitter Laura Bruce, who sprained her ankle in practice.

Ralston will use the opportunity to employ a new blocking strategy. "The new strategy will give the outside hitter more responsibility. We will try to block for points."

St. Francis is an NAIA member that should, according to Ralston, be good competition for the Panthers. "They've done well in the past, and they play Division I schools."

The team is coming into the practice "fairly well," Ralston said. "With the heat of the summer I don't think they can (to school) in as good a condition as they would have liked, but other teams are in the same boat."

The pressure seniors put on themselves is one concern Ralston said she wants to alleviate. The 1988 squad had one senior player with three this year.

Players who received conference laurels from last year are: senior outside hitter Galanti, a second team all-conference selection who led Gateway with a .330 hitting percentage, was second in the conference with 1.31 blocks per set and led with 72 blocks. Bruce, an honorable mention Gateway performer, finished the league with 3.58 digs a set. Sophomore Diane Kruttschnitt was the corner of the year, led the team with 296 kills and 45 service

Agents plead innocent to extortion charges

CHICAGO (AP)—Two sports agents charged with racketeering and extortion in their dealings with college athletes pleaded innocent Thursday and a defense lawyer said they would fight the Justice Department allegations "vigorously."

New York-based agents Norby Walters, 56, and Lloyd Bloom, 29, entered their pleas before U.S. District Judge

George Marovich, who released the defendants on their own recognizance.

"We will defend them extremely vigorously, no matter what," said defense attorney Robert Gold.

"In every movie I've seen they say, 'Anything you say can and will be used against you,' so I'm not saying anything," Walters said in the arraignment.

How much, how many and at what cost

A breakdown of where your money gets spent

BY MATTHEW MAYNARD large editor

The university just wrote a check for $25,000. You might ask what it was for. Was it for a new computer system that will improve the educational process? No. Was the check for badly needed teacher salaries? No, nothing so grandiose. The check was for toilet paper.

Lou Henken, director of housing, spent $25,000 for 100,000 rolls, 1,000 sheets per roll, on that most basic of hygienic tools: toilet paper. The rolls filled up one whole tractor trailer. Incidentally, if you placed 100,000 rolls of toilet paper, 1,000 sheets a piece at an average length of four inches a sheet, end to end it would stretch for six miles. Toilet paper is purchased twice annually.

There are nearly 10,000 students and roughly 1,800 staff. Whenever people gather in such a great mass there is going to be numbers and totals that go along with it.

Beverly Sterling, director of residence hall food services, said she bought for the second week of school this year 5,160 corn dogs, 2,760 chicken quarters, 910 pounds of inside round beef and 3,520 beef patties.

That is just a sample of what Eastern eats on a given week. Multiply those totals times 35 weeks and you'll have an idea of the sheer numbers, but what about costs.

First a little about how Eastern goes about buying its food. Sterling said that Eastern accepts bids from several food producers, including Bunn Capital, Prairie State, Kellogs, Sexton, Robert's Fish and Pepsi Cola. Sterling accepts the best bargain, which is not always the lowest bid.

"Our beef is choice, the turkey is all white meat and when we order ham we want ham, not gristle," Sterling said. For the fiscal year of 1986-87 Eastern's budget was $13 million; $1,080,000 for produce, $272,000 for milk, $50,123 for bread and buns. Other totals were $18,000 for snacks like chips and candy, $45,000 for ice cream and a whopping $44,000 for doughnuts.

Henken added that 50 trucks a week bring all the needed materials.

And what about those lines you see outside book rental. That too, has totals and prices.

New titles alone, that is not including present stores at book rentals, will total somewhere around 17,500 volumes, according to Carol Coffey, acting director of text rental. Six hundred sociology books cost $1,800, $7,300 for 365 history books and the winner of the highest price for a single book to date was a math book titled Turbo Pascal. It ran $99.95 for one copy. Text book rental had spent $235,000 as of Thursday, August 18, and was not done.

Did you know if you took the 212,400 gallons of soda food services goes through in a year and dumped into Lantz Gym, you would still have more than 30,000 gallons left.

When you simply sit in your dorm room it costs money. That garbage has to go somewhere, $85,000. That cable running from your wall to your TV didn't grow there, $105,000. Communication costs; phones, $180,000. And hopefully, there are no six legged greeblies running about your room; pest control, $15,000.

Lets not forget we are dealing with an institution. Like any institution, there is paper work, and lots of it. Carl Gilbert, central stores supervisor, buys office supplies for the university. He, in turn, sells the supplies to the various departments. He said he averages a monthly order of about $25,000 for supplies. The central stores catalogue has 392 items listed with paper being most in demand, about $80,000 spent on it yearly.

Eastern's President, Stan Rives, is outfitted by the university with a 1985 Oldsmobile 88. You might call it the flagship of Eastern's 130 vehicle motor pool. To move these vehicles from point A to point B, the motor pool goes through 4,000 gallons of gas monthly at a slightly lesser charge than the average car owner because they are not charged federal tax.

Campus Police Chief Tom Larson shed some light on illegal totals. Last year, there were 530 crimes reported to the campus police ranging from serious crimes (like assault and motor vehicle theft) to non-serious crimes (like parking violations). On the subject of parking, 20,000 citations were given costing the violators $91,000.

Perhaps these numbers may seem trivial to you. Then let's talk about why we're here, education. The cost of education is rising at an average rate of seven percent a year, which is three percent higher than the nation's overall inflation rate.

For a four year education at Eastern, this does not account for unseen increases, it will cost roughly $23,256. Subtract $9,552 if you do not live and eat on campus.

Although this total seems high, Camille Comps, a secretary in planning services, is quick to point out that Eastern is still one of the least expensive colleges in the state.

If your speed is for private or Ivy League schools, try to keep up with these totals. Four years at the University of Chicago will cost $79,300. Boston University will cost $79,100 for a four stay. Dartmouth College $79,196, and Harvard $79,240.

Back to Charleston. With a total population of 10,000+, its monetary effects on Charleston and Mattoon are profound. In an economic impact study done in 1985 by Dr. Robert Meier, professor of management and marketing, he found the total expenditures by Eastern's population in both communities to be $119,854,066.

The breakdown went like this, these totals are for Charleston alone, $21,152,123 spent by faculty and staff, $74,671,065 by students. Other categories were expenditures by visitors, Eastern investments, tax allocations and university goods and services.

Students spend their money in many ways

BY MELISSA TIBEREND
Assoc. Verge Editor

Who says "Money for nothing,"? Someone who just won the lotto? People who are millionnaires? Dire Straits? Eastern students who just moved back for the fall semester certainly don't think so.

Hundreds of dollars are sifted through the hands of students who are trying to get everything from rent to parking stickers paid for.

Sophomore Jon Powell, who lives on campus, said that he spends most of his money on food and going to the bars.

"Of coarse, buying food instead of eating in the cafeteria is expensive, but you just get in the habit of ordering Jimmy John's and pizza," said Powell.

Sophomore Christy Rabbers, who lives on campus, said most of her money is spent on the dues for the sorority (Tri Sigma Sigma) she belongs to.

"If I didn't spend it on my sorority, it would just be spent on going out to the bars; and since I pay for this myself, it was something I chose to do," said Rabbers.

Students living off campus have many more bills to worry about on a monthly basis, such as rent, cable, water, telephone and electricity.

Senior Mike Bucklar, who lives off campus, said he spends most of his money on the rent. Although, he said the cost of living at Eastern was pretty reasonable.

Sophomore Angie Alwardt, who is a commuter, said she spends most of her money on gas.

"It's average spending and its not really that bad," said Alwardt.

"I want my MTV," but that will also add on to the great list of expenditures.

Cray shows himself as blues best

By PETE SCALES
Music writer

"Don't be Afraid of the Dark". The Robert Cray Band's fifth L.P. is not the new ad for Michelob Beer, but is sure to cause a few more heads to turn "young Bob's" way.

Robert Cray, with his good looks and clean cut image, is not just a yuppie with a case of the "down and outs", but is a powerful force in putting classic R&B into mainstream pop music. He combines his masterful guitar solos and smoky voice with story-telling lyrics of adultery and deception.

"Don't Be Afraid Of The Dark" is Cray's reply to his 1987 Grammy winning album "Strong Persuader". The single "Smoking Gun" shot a hole in the pop music charts and the band recieved some well deserved recognition.

The title track, "Don't be Afraid of the Dark," is the first single off the album and is the most pop oriented, and also seems to be the weakest. It's lyrics are too repetitive and lacks the storybook lyrics Cray is so well known for; a poor choice to sell the album.

The Rosebud Agency, representing The Robert Cray Band, is using a toll-free number to get reactions to the album. A call to 1-800-832-8683 will hook you up to an operator who asks not only your opinion on the album and Robert Cray, but how much money you make, your view of the Cuban Missile Crisis, your shoe size, and if you own any tropical fish. Rock n' Roll ain't what it used to be.

Besides its corporate marketing techniques, "Don't Be Afraid Of The Dark" is still a fine album that shows off the progression the band has made from the days raw blues standards to their sexy soul, like that of Marvin Gaye or Booker T and the MGs.

The Memphis Horns pump up the L.P. with their Tower of Power-like resoundings, found most prominently on "At Last".

Jazzman David Sanborn lends a sax solo to "Acting This Way".

Robert Cray proved his guitar work is one to be reconded with when he, Johnny Copeland, and Albert Collins teamed up for a blues guitar fest on the Grammy winning "Showdown" album. On "Don't be Afraid of the Dark", Cray's distinctive guitar work is so well balanced with Richard Cousin's bass, David Olson's drums, and the keyboard work of Peter Boe, that the blues flows, rather than having the band virtually stop for the soloist to choke out a 20-minute string bashing.

Lyricaly, The Robert Cray Band is the best in the blues business. Stories of lying, cheating, broken hearts and "Good Lovin'" are told intelligibly and with great feeling and believability.

Shoe king outruns competition

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Billionaire Meshulam Riklis hurried across the crowded lobby of his Riviera Hotel, son Kristofer perched on his shoulders, wife Pia Zadora and daughter Kady scurrying along at his side.

While hundreds of owners and operators of his McCrory Stores jammed the lobby, Riklis slipped along unnoticed as he rushed to catch his private jet, waiting at McCarran International Airport.

In a town where the whims of lady luck can make you or break you, Riklis says he prefers running shoes to suits and ties when bucking his competition.

The chairman of the giant Rapid-American Corp., who often observes, "I have the urge to merge," had his running shoes on again this summer, acquiring nine companies from E-Il Holdings Inc. for $1.2 billion. The latest acquisitions include Culligan International water softeners, Samsonite luggage and Samsonite furniture.

They joined a Riklis collection that includes Faberge and Elizabeth Arden, Botany 500, McGregor, the McCrory chain of 1,300 five-and-dime stores and the Riviera Hotel and Casino here.

Riklis, a native of Istanbul, emigrated to America from Tel Aviv in 1947. His relationship with the business world has been a real roller coaster ride since then, with financial disasters threatening to wipe out his Rapid-American empire twice.

He knows well how to succeed—and how to survive.

But what makes Fiklis run? Competition.

Bankruptcy overcomes lottery winner

TACOMA, Wash—(AP)—Patrick Holland said when he won a $3.5 million Lotto jackpot two years ago in the Washington State Lottery that he did not want to spend his money foolishly.

Holland and his wife Patricia filed for protection and reorganization under Chapter 11 of the bankruptcy law Friday, owing $450,000 to nine creditors who obtained court orders giving them rights to his next annual lottery payment.

"He was a pauper before he won the Lotto, kind of a starving construction worker," said his former wife, Karen Klingler.

They divorced before he won the sweepstakes. Now she's a creditor and has obtained a garnishment for more than $15,000 in support payments for their 11-year-old daughter, court records show.

Holland's third annual payment of $140,000, after a deduction for federal taxes, is due Thursday.

With Friday's filing, federal Bankruptcy Judge Frank Howard signed an order that the next payment go into a trust account for the time being, said Holland's attorney, Neil Shillito.

The judge allowed the couple to take $3,500 for living expenses and administrative costs of the case, but other payments require a court order, Shillito said.

Holland, 34, and Shillito have refused to discuss his business dealings or say how his rags-to-riches story turned back to rags.

When he won the Lotto in August 1986, Holland told a reporter he was a building contractor. He said he bought the van of his dreams and was looking for a fancy present for his daughter but wanted to avoid squandering his newfound wealth and planned to hire a financial adviser.

His ex-wife says he also bought a car, a truck, TV satellite dish and a house, and started a dry-cleaning business, Holland Cleaners Inc.

'Last Temptation of Christ' causes evangelist upheaval

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Universal Pictures predicted "The Last Temptation of Christ" grossed up to $450,000 at the box office in its first weekend, and some evangelists who denounced the film conceded their protests had backfired.

"It has to be a decisive victory for Universal," said Tim Penland, who quit as evangelical film consultant for Universal in protest over the film. "The appeal to stop it failed. What we did created at least $10 million in free publicity."

The curious outnumbered the furious at theaters in U.S. cities where the film played to mostly sold-out crowds over the weekend, according to preliminary figures.

Universal Pictures, which released the film, predicted a final tally for Friday through Sunday will be between $400,000 and $450,000, $50,000 per screen.

Phil Garfinkle, senior president of Entertainment Data Inc., which reports office figures, said the film grossed roughly $250,000 Friday and Saturday.

Look at a summer in the movies

ROGER JOHNSON
Staff writer

Since Memorial Day, scores of films have graced the screens of the tiny, box-like theaters of America. A few, most fell by the wayside, condemned to collect dust in the future on your local video shelf.

It was the big names, from summers past, who were right in typical, lifeless formulas. These films passed quietly into the second-run theaters before you had a chance to get excited about them. Who may have killed off one of many threats to our freedom and Arthur just wasn't as cute without his money.

Superstars Arnold Schwarzenegger and Pee Wee Herman scored only luke-warm success at the box-office. The Bushwood Country Club wasn't nearly as funny the second time around in "Caddyshack II." And Carol Anne warned us that the Sears Tower was haunted, but nobody seemed to care, at all. In fact, Heather O'Roarke's untimely death caused more publicity.

But not all the news was bad news, unless you're a human actor. The summer's biggest star was the lop-eared star of "Who Framed Roger Rabbit?"

The other summer's hits were, at best, the unlikely choices at the outset. "Die Hard," starring the walking smirk, Bruce Willis, was an exciting, well-directed action film that gave Willis a chance to shine on the big screen. Robert De Niro also made his mark in the comedy "Midnight Run" with Charles Grodin.

Clint Eastwood played Dirty Harry for laughs, and made it work in "The Dead Pool", and Tom Cruise did something for "Cocktail," although its not clear what, but apparently it worked.

The future does have its bright spots. It's only two more months until the eagerly anticipated U2 concert film "Rattle & Hum" is released, sometime in early November.

Returning to school

By DONELLE PARDEE
Staff writer

I never know what a new school year will throw my way. After being away for a semester I was nervous, yet excited at the thoughts of setting foot in Charleston as an Eastern student again.

I was nervous because I've been away from the newspaper for a semester and haven't written anything since last fall. I wasn't too sure how difficult it would be to get back into the swing of things.

However, it wasn't long before I felt like I had always been here. I felt a little disoriented at first, but with this new look and new system we are working with I'm not alone in that respect.

I was excited because not only was I back to accomplish something important to me, but also because I was writing again. Now you are probably thinking well, big deal. Well, it is to me.

I guess you would have to be a writer to understand.

Anyway, these were not the only things I felt, however. There was some sadness in there. I will miss being at home and close to people I care about. The thing that keeps me going is I have friends here too and I can always hop in my little Toyota and head home for a visit, that is as long as it keeps running.

I think the strangest thing for me to adjust to is actually being on my own. Oh sure, Mom and Dad help out with finances and such, and it sure is appreciated. Paying for everything is not an easy task when you're a poor college student like me.

But I have never lived in an apartment, without Mom and Dad that is. It's neat not having to deal with all the residence hall restrictions.

Okay, I'm willing to admit they serve somewhat of a purpose, but if I wanted to feel like I was just starting high school instead of being a 21-year-old (almost) college student I would stay in the residence halls.

I have a great apartment all to myself which is nice. It's nice to have a roommate sometimes, but there are times when we would get on each others nerves.

I can be alone anywhere in my place. Whenever I need quiet, I have it. If I need company, I go visit friends or they come visit me.

part 3) to try to put an end to Freddy's brutality.

Several new kids are also brought into the situation through their friendships with the original survivors. One by one, the number of teens in the town diminishes. Mysterious deaths and even multiple deaths don't even phase the adults of this town. In fact, the way adults are portrayed in this film is astounding. Not one of them cares, or even makes an effort to understand the pleadings of their children.

Only Kristen has the ability to realize what she's up against. Her friend Alice becomes interested in the strange happenings and gets herself dragged smack dab into the middle of things. Before she fully realizes what's happening, she becomes the sum of all those that died at the hands of Krueger, and has at her disposal, the best each of them had to offer.

At this point in the film I realized the films makers had yet to attempt to try to scare the audience or build any kind of suspense. Instead, these films have become a series of situations where a teen is brought in and Freddy gets to crank up the special effects gadgets.

The story doesn't matter, the people playing the parts don't matter (They do matter, but only to the extent that they are all pleasant looking and highly photogenic). Only the quality of the special effects matter.

To its credit, the film does include some very creative effects. A pizza with sausages made of human souls, has to be seen to be believed. Sick as it is, the fun in the Nightmare series is in seeing how many ways there are to kill a teenager. At least these teens die for no apparent reason, instead of their sexual promiscuity (Hey, I enjoy a good sex scene as much as the next guy).

I'm also convinced the same man who writes dialogue for the likes of Stallone, Eastwood and Schwarzenager is moonlighting for Freddy. Every death must be accompanied by a dry, witty pun. A slaying involving a waterbed, merits the line, "How's this for a wet dream?"

Funny? Maybe the first 75 or 80 times, but it wears thin before the movie ends.

Actor Robert Englund, who portrays Freddy with a burning (burnt) passion, has got to be happy. Englund's name appears before the title in this film's credits. A major achievement for an actor who always appears in makeup. If your paying attention, you can actually catch a glimpse of the man behind the mask (Clue: Not just another nurse with a mustache).

If your looking for new and innovative story ideas, you can just as well watch an old episode of "Three's Company." But if you can accept Freddy for what he is (a senseless, murdering creep), you'll probably get enough special effects to hold your attention for the length of the film.

All Night special
